Price, Roberts, Pan Are 1991 Faculty Award Winners

Two faculty from the Ogden College of Science, Technology and Health and one from the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences received the 1991 Faculty Awards at 134th Commencement Exercises Sunday, May 5.

Dr. Jimmie Price of the Department of Health and Safety received the Award for Teaching; Dr. Wei Ping Pan, Chemistry, received the Award for Research and Creativity and Dr. Julia Roberts of the Department of Teacher Education received the Award for Public Service. Dr. Robert V. Haynes, vice president for academic affairs, announced this year's winners who were presented cash awards by Mrs. Jean Kennedy, WKU national alumni association president.

During remarks about this year's winners, Dr. Haynes said:

"Students in her classes consistently rate Dr. Price as one of the best instructors they have had.

"As one student stated: 'She makes me understand and comprehend the material. She is very well read, and I am honored to have such a wonderful teacher. Now I know why everyone says that Western is the very best.'"

Dr. Haynes listed accomplishments of Dr. Pan since he joined WKU's chemistry faculty in 1986.

Dr. Pan has published or had accepted for publication 28 papers in four different journals of national reputation. Also, he has made 30 presentations at state, regional and national meetings.

He has directed master's theses and is currently assisting two other graduate students with their theses.

Ten undergraduate students have done research papers under his guidance and he has received seven external grants totaling over $180,000.

Dr. Pan has been instrumental in setting up a thermal analysis laboratory which has gained national recognition.

In his spare time, he has coordinated the appointment of six visiting scholars from the Peoples Republic of China and the Republic of China.

Since coming to WKU in 1974, the public service recipient, Dr. Roberts, has received many honors and awards at the local and national level working with school districts.

She recently received the Distinguished Service Award from the Kentucky Association for Gifted Education in recognition of her outstanding service to young people.

"In the field of gifted education, Dr. Roberts has brought to Western a national reputation for excellence," Dr. Haynes said.

Each summer, WKU hosts workshops for gifted students and their teachers.

Dr. Roberts directs WKU's Center for Gifted Students which has secured more than $600,000 in grants and contracts.

"Dr. Roberts freely gives of herself and her talents to school systems, public school teachers and students across the Commonwealth," said Dr. Haynes.

President Meredith individually recognized 1,300 students who participated in Commencement. More than 3,000 applied to be 1991 degree candidates.

"This is not an ending; this is the commencement of the rest of your life," Dr. Meredith told the gradu-

President Meredith Addresses U.S. House Subcommittee on Funding Needs

On behalf of 15 higher education associations across the United States, President Meredith May 14 addressed the U.S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Labor, Health and Human Services and Education in Washington, D.C.

WKU's President presented funding recommendations for the Education Department in 10 vital areas of student and institutional assistance.

He requested Pell and Supplemental Education Opportunity Grants be increased, plus the College Work-Study Program, and asked that new federal capital contributions for the Perkins loan program also be increased.

Other increases he supported included more funding for State Student Incentive Grants, the Title IX Graduate Programs, Title III of the Higher Education Act, the Title VI language and area studies programs, the Fulbright-Hays exchange program and six Special Programs for Students from Disadvantaged Backgrounds.

Dr. Ronald Eckard

Eckard Awarded Fulbright to Denmark

Dr. Ronald Eckard, professor of English, has been awarded a Fulbright grant to be a visiting lecturer in Denmark during the 1991 fall semester.

He will serve as a lecturer in American studies and advanced teaching English as a foreign language at the Royal Danish School of Educational Studies in Copenhagen.

During the 1983-84 school year, Eckard had a Fulbright to teach English as a foreign language at the Middle East Technical University in Ankara, Turkey.

He's been a member of the English faculty since 1976.

ates and their supporters, who packed E.A. Diddle Arena.

"We are now bonded together for the rest of our lives with the common bond of being Western graduates," he said.

Dr. Meredith suggested three rules for the graduates to follow: Always see farther than you can see by dreaming for the future; always give more than is expected of you, and be humane and caring to your fellow man.

"By following these three rules, what a wonderful world you will create," he said.

The ceremony included recognition of the top scholars of each of the University's undergraduate colleges. They are:

Dr. Donald Wendt, left, Industrial Tech. and Dr. Robert D. Smith, Extended Campus.

Jo Ella Haynes Goad of Portland, Tenn., scholar of the Potter College of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences.

April Dorris of Orlinda, Tenn., co-scholar of the Bowling Green College of Business Administration with Jahna Rearden of Whitesville, Ky.;

Julie Fleming of Huntsville, Ky., co-scholar of the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences with Lydia Jane Jagers of Bowling Green;

Sean Timothy Willgruber of Bowling Green, scholar of the Ogden College of Science, Technology and Health;

Dorris, Rearden, Fleming and Jagers the Ogden Trustees' Award for the highest undergraduate grade-point-average for the class of 1991.

Lowry Receives Malone Fellowship to Egypt

Dr. Mark Lowry II, professor of geography, has been awarded the Joseph J. Malone Faculty Fellowship to participate in a month-long study program in the Arab world.

He will attend briefings and lectures by government officials, private sector leaders and academic specialists in Egypt.

He will participate in briefings and roundtable discussions with foreign policy specialists on Egypt and U.S.-Egyptian relations in Washington, D.C. prior to leaving.

As a Malone Fellow, Dr. Lowry will learn about Arab history, politics and society and issues bearing on the overall U.S.-Arab relationship.

The Malone Program is sponsored by the national Council on U.S.-Arab relations, a non-profit educational group which seeks to strengthen mutual understanding and dialogue between the United States and the Arab world.

Edwards Selected Talisman Editor

Cheryl A. Edwards, a photojournalism major and government minor from Louisville, will be the 1992 Talisman Yearbook editor.

Edwards was classes editor for the 1991 Talisman. Her awards and honors include the National Dean's List, President's List at Western and Regents and University Scholars scholarships.

In her application, Edwards said she finds "the challenge of the job exhilarating."

In addition to working on the Talisman, Edwards is a member of the Christian Student Fellowship and the local chapter of the National Press Photographers Association.

Photo left: Lydia Jagers receives the Ogden Trustees Award from Cooper Smith, Ogden Trustee during May 5 Commencement. Jagers, senior secretary in Computer and Information Services, worked toward her B.S. degree in elementary education since 1977. She has been a member of the WKU staff since 1975.

Falmlen is Student Regent, ASG Pres.

Heather Falmlen, a junior theatre major from Winchester, has been elected president of the Associated Student Government.

As ASG President, she will represent students on the University's Board of Regents.

Other officers elected are:

John Seiber, a junior corporate and organizational communication major from Hendersonville, Tenn., administrative vice president;

Staci Kitchens, a junior mathematics major from Franklin, Ky., junior class vice president;

Mistianna Holcomb, a sophomore history and government major from Murray, Ky., public relations vice president;

India Wilson, a Greensburg art education sophomore, secretary and Joe Rains, a sophomore accounting major from Antioch, Tenn., treasurer.

Lightfoot, Taylor are Athletes of Year

Basketball players Joe Lightfoot and Mary Taylor have been selected the WKU Male and Female Athletes-of-the-Year for the 1990-91 school year.

Lightfoot, from Kankakee, Ill., helped lead the Hilltoppers to a 14-14 record and a third place finish in the Sun Belt Conference race.

He scored a career-high 30 points in a Hilltopper victory over Tennessee Tech in E.A. Diddle Arena in December.

Taylor, a native of Benton, Ky., lettered four years for the Lady Toppers. She helped lead the '90-'91 Toppers to a 29-3 mark, a Sun Belt Conference Tournament championship and a seventh straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

She scored a career-high 25 points in the Toppers' victory over Alabama at a Birmingham in the championship game of the conference tournament.

Their names will be added to the plaque that recognizes WKU's honorees in E.A. Diddle Arena.

WKU Credit Union Offers Home Facts

WKU Credit Union Inc. launched a new consumer information services April 12 called Home Facts.

The service offers members an extensive library of home-related books and magazines, directories of local contractors and realtors, plus information packets on home equity and real estate loans.

The Home Facts Center, located at the Campbell Lane office, was designed especially for members who are planning to buy, build or remodel their homes.

For more information, call 2411.

WKU Athletes Dominate Academic Honor Lists

WKU varsity athletes dominated the Sun Belt Conference's annual recognitions for excellence in the classroom by league student-athletes with 93 students named to the SBC 1990-91 Honor Roll.

The roll features athletes in any varsity sport at conference schools who had a minimum cumulative or semester grade point average of 3.0 at the end of the 1990 fall semester.

There were a total of 442 Sun Belt athletes on the Honor Roll. South Florida was second with 60 honorees.

In addition, the Sun Belt named 162 student-athletes recipients of The Commissioner's Award for sophomores and juniors and again, Western topped the list with 32 award winners, this time tied with South Florida.

The Sun Belt also announced Faculty Award recipients. This award recognizes senior student-athletes with a 3.2 average at the end of the fall semester, and Western had nine on this list of 43 students.

Did You Know?...

Medical technology school applicants from WKU had a 100 percent acceptance rate for the 1991-92 school year.

Dr. Larry Elliott, medical technology coordinator, reported nine out of nine students were accepted from Western.

"As last year, the shortage of available medical technologists is acute and as bad as the nursing shortage that exists in the U.S.," Dr. Elliott said.

And on that note, WKU's Department of Nursing associate degree graduates who wrote the National Council Licensure Exam in February had a 95 percent pass rate.

International Programs Available for Faculty

Opportunities for faculty to participate in research, lecture-ships and travel are offered through a variety of programs which are coordinated through WKU's Office of International Programs.

Details about these opportunities are available in the most recent issue of Outlook, published by the office and edited by Mary Ann McCelvey.

Some of these opportunities are available through the Council for International Exchange of Scholars, which includes 1992-93 Fulbright Awards, Canadian Embassy grants, awards through the International Research and Exchanges Board, the Kennan Institute for Advanced Russian Studies, the Pacific Cultural Foundation, Smithsonian Institution and Norwegian Information Service of the U.S.

Call 5334 or visit the Office of International Programs, #1 Cherry Hall.

Hilltopper Dinner Theatre Opens June 7

The eighth season of Hilltopper Dinner Theatre will open June 7 and continue on a regular schedule through Aug. 3 in the 250-seat Garrett Conference Center Ballroom.

The dinner theatre repertory company will present 33 performances complemented by a complete dinner and Sunday buffet.

This season features Run for Your Wife, The Musical Comedy Murders of 1940 and Pops At the Topper.

Evening performances are 6:30 p.m. and Sundays at 12:30 p.m.

Women's Alliance 1990 Award Goes to Huda Melky, Financial Aid Counselor

Huda Melky, Student Financial Aid Counselor, is the recipient of the Women's Alliance Award for Outstanding Contribution to Women in 1990.

The native of Syria has been a member of WKU's staff for 12 years.

WKU Women's Alliance President Neva Gielow presented the award at the group's meeting April 30.

The purpose of the award is to give recognition to the woman in the Western Kentucky University community who has made the most significant contribution to the advancement and/or the well-being of others, especially women, during the previous calendar year.

"Our selectee received three formal nominations for this award with 19 other letters of endorsement, nomination, recommendation and support from a wide variety of people," she said.

They included students, staff and faculty and "the common theme that ran throughout all of the letters was the fact that our recipient always does more than is required or necessary in whatever the situation," Gielow said.

As an example, Gielow said during the recent Persian Gulf crisis, Melky led group and individual counseling for women who had a family member or loved ones involved with Desert Storm.

Also, as a financial aid counselor, "her dedication and concern are recognized ... In the highly stressful area of student financial aid, this person has consistently upheld the Western traditions of helpfulness and friendliness, as one of her nominators phrased it," Gielow said, adding:

"Most of the students who support her nomination mentioned their personal contact with her which ranged from assistance in filling out the financial aid forms to support and encouragement with schoolwork, help in studying, problem-solving, kindness, listening, just listening, friendship and even lending money!"

Also, Gielow cited Melky's support, encouragement and counseling of the non-traditional women students as often-mentioned in her nomination letters.

Melky came to the United States

12 years ago and taught herself English.

She has an International Law Degree from the University of Damascus, and at Western received a master's degree in student personnel services. She has almost completed the requirements for the ED.S. degree in counseling, and has a perfect 4.0 average.

"Huda Melky has been called a role model by students," Gielow said.

"Perhaps she is also a role model for all of us as well, by the commitment and devotion she exhibits in her professional and personal life to her students, to Western and to her family."

Troublesome Creek," has been distributed nationwide to public TV stations. Producer/director was Michael Lasater, WKYU-TV. Jim Wayne Miller served as humanities adviser.

University Libraries

Mike Binder, dean, has been appointed to the program committee of the Extended Campus Library Services Section of the Association for College and Research Libraries. Also has been appointed to the Warren County Bicentennial Committee.

LIBRARY PUBLIC SERVICES

Sally Ann Strickler has been appointed to the Committee on Committees of the Southeastern Library Association Leadership Conference.

WKU Represented on National Education Panel

WKU was the only Kentucky university represented last month at a meeting of the National Education Goals Panel, a group formed from President George Bush's education summit with 50 governors last year.

Dr. James Craig, assistant dean in the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences and Sheila Cruse of the Gifted and Talented Program attended the meeting which focused upon establishing goals the United States should meet by the year 2,000.

Goals discussed ranged from readiness for school, having a 90 percent high school graduation rate by the year 2,000 and being number one in science and math achievement.
